

Saturday Sharings

Friends! We are kicking off

Saturday Sharings

this Saturday April 1st

12pm~1:30 pm est (not a prank)

What is it?

We are initiating this space to support one another (you-us-them-someone you know) in our personal research – inquiries – initiatives – projects, through a bi-weekly rhythm study, sharing and dialogue. However you are aspiring to do “your thing” or are searching for “that thing”, we are shaping this intentional space together to learn and support one another to show up and keep on going forward. Yup, even your whispering breath of a thing, THAT COUNTS! Seeds, Sprouts, full gardens too, join us, if even just to listen...

Beta Format: 1st and 3rd Saturdays 4/1 ~ 4/15 ~ 5/6 ~ 5/20 ~ 6/3 ~ 6/17

12pm est: Arrive, Welcome Opening. (verse, poem, intention, rotating hosts)

30 min Shared Study of Joseph Beuys: What Is Art? (social artist visionary)

30 min Sharing Personal Research. (1-2 friends each week+open dialogue)

20 min Summer Planning Updates: Hands In(New York) ~ On Earth (Detroit)

1:30 est: Close

*Though this space will begin as an online meeting group, our aim is to grow connection and relationship that come summer friends can continue sharing together in person.

Starting Images to Share: As we begin to meet, we invite you to help each other learn a sense of our shared landscape of striving, is there something you want to share about? If so, feel free to bring 3 images that relate to your personal direction of inquiry.

We look forward to meeting you in the light of this new growing moment, Thank You
