"The key to unlocking the forces still dormant in matter lies in the human heart. If man wills the good, then the storms of national and international quarrels will calm down, and the order of the starry heavens will once again find its reflection on earth."

Daniel Nicol Dunlop

Basel, 30 August 1926; Speech at the sub-conference of the World Power Conference (after Thomas Meyer, D.N.D. Dunlop. Ein Zeit- und Lebensbild, Dornach 1987, p. 262).

The World Power Conference met for the first time 100 years ago on the initiative of Daniel Nicol Dunlop. Dunlop's intention was not limited to the field of energy, however, but aimed to establish a world economic conference in which not only producers and traders, but also consumers should have been integrated. This world conference was intended to stimulate a creative dialogue and cooperation between a free intellectual life and independent science and the economy, so that the economy could increasingly become the basis of humane communities.

STRIVING FOR FREEDOM AND THE GOOD GIVING NEW LIFE TO ECONOMY 100 YEARS AFTER THE FIRST WORLD POWER CONFERENCE

In order to visualise Dunlop's intention as vividly as possible, we not only want to delve into its historical and intellectual background. We would also like to invite people from different generations to a friendly dialogue and long-term cooperation, who want to build an economy of fraternity through their concrete initiatives.
