

Save the Date!

Intergenerational Conference

15.-20.07.2025

Structures for Freedom

Social Riddles of Education

Dear students and young people, teachers, leaders of educational initiatives, and parents from around the world,

From the 15th to the 20th of July 2025, we warmly invite you to the Goetheanum (Dornach, CH) for a unique intergenerational encounter. Under the title "Structures for Freedom – Social Riddles of Education" we will spend six days together to explore how to support independent and creative schools and innovative approaches to learning and how such projects can be accessible to all. How can we ensure that education is both free from undue influence and create a system of education that supports diversity on a widescale? One of the areas the conference will explore will be the upper grades and how learning communities and schools around the world have creatively developed graduation processes that align with their values and goals.

These questions touch everyone, no matter their age, and each place in the world faces them in unique ways. For over a century these have been important themes within Waldorf education but of course they also live in other educational movements and projects. In coming together we hope to raise our striving for renewal in education to consciousness and open new horizons for the future.

These social riddles, important for educational initiatives, schools and even the constitution of states, will be the core focus of our gathering.

Save the date, we hope to see you there!

To stay updated about this event, subscribe to the Youth Section newsletter! If you are interested in collaborating in this event, please reach out to mail@youthsection.org