

A week to reconnect with fellow students, former classmates and teachers at the Goetheanum

We are delighted to invite all alumni to come together at the Goetheanum from the 17th to the 21st of June 2024 for 5 days of encounters with fellow students and teachers of the various Goetheanum Studium offers (online and on Campus).

This week will be an opportunity to re-enliven past students' relationships with each other and the Goetheanum through morning study groups on the Leading Thoughts (1924) given by Rudolf Steiner 100 years ago, nature observation that connects us with St. John's mood, teacher contributions and courses on art and philosophy. Together we will also create spaces to envision future perspectives for the alumni network based on our experiences as past students of the Goetheanum.

We hope to see many of you there!

The organising team,
Andrea de la Cruz and Mayumi Matsumiya

Guadalupe Olaizola, and Nicole Asis

ALUMNI WEEK

▪ Common Study led by Alumni

Join language groups every morning as we explore together Rudolf Steiner's Anthroposophical Leading Thoughts.

▪ Nature Observation & Music

Let yourself be guided through observations of nature in tune with the spirit of the time of St. John.

▪ Teachers & Alumni Contributions

Delve into a variety of topics with engaging lectures by the Goetheanum faculty and professional alumni.

▪ Short Courses

Art, eurythmy, sculpture... take your pick and embark on a creative journey.

▪ Open Mic Session

A moment for former students to share accomplishments and showcase personal initiatives.
