

POST-GRADUATE ANTHROPOSOPHIC MEDICAL TRAINING WEEK

*open to all professionals trained or training in anthroposophical therapies
2nd - 7th June 2025 - Emerson College, UK*

Phosphorus- sulphur polarity

Prof David Martin will take us through another experiential journey into the life of elements, starting with physical, chemical and biological manifestations up to the 'gesture of the Being' of the element

Therapeutic Speech

We will explore the elements of speech such as sound, rhythm, voice and breath and their therapeutic impact through speech/movement exercises and poetic texts.

Macroelements

We will explore the macroelements (carbohydrates, lipids, protein) from the point of view of anthroposophic physiology. Will start from biology and chemistry and build up to an image of their workings within the four-fold constitution of man.

Inner work

We will continue fine tuning our therapeutic qualities doctors and therapists by deepening our spiritual understanding of our own inner journey.
